My dear Sir,

We wait with anxiety to hear from Miss Little. Tho, I do <sup>not</sup> write officially yet I am persuaded that our Trustees would elect her if they had any good reason to think she would accept. You wrote me that you had written to her. As soon as you hear from her please inform us whether she is willing to accept our proposal or not. I think Miss L. would have as large & as pleasant a school would be expected. It might be a permanent situation for her. We shall not take any steps to get a teacher till we hear from Miss L. ~~write~~ unless too long a time elapses before we can hear. My great object in writing now is to get an answer the sooner. I am writing in the midst of business in a public office. This is my excuse for such a scrawl -

Yrs. &c. &c.

Daniel Fitz.

P.S. Miss L's compensation would probably be as good as any she has ever received. —
